From THURSDAY April 9, to THURSDAY April 16, 1741.

BERLIN, December 24.

PUBLICK Prayers have been put up in all the Churches of this City for the Succeſs of his Majeſty's Arms. The Publick is very impatient to hear what is doing in Sileſia, which is the Occaſion of many falſe Reports: However, this is the trueſt Account we can get of this Affair. The King having entered Sileſia ſtopt at Schewnitz in the firſt Place, from whence his Majeſty march'd towards Lignitz The Convents ſent him Deputies to implore his Protection and beſeech him to grant them the free Exerciſe of their Religion: The King aſſur'd them that he would conſider of their Demands. The 18th the Arch Prieſt of Grunberg made the Elogium of his Majeſty in the Pulpit, and exhorted his Community to ſubmit to that Prince and obey him. Five Thouſand Troops and Militia of the Country went to throw themſelves into Breſlau; but the Burghers conſtrain'd the Magiſtrates to maintain the Priviledge of that City, which is not to receive an Imperial Garriſon. The King reckons to be at Breſlau the 28th Inſtant with his Army Count Wenceſlas de Wallis and Count Preyſing, who command in Great Glogau, have ſhut the Gates of the Town, and are working Night and Day in order to put it in a Poſture of Defence When the King arrived on the Frontiers of Sileſia he made the following ſhort Speech to his Troops:

'Gentlemen,

'I do not look upon you as my Subjects but as my 'Friends: The Brandenbourg Troops have ſignaliz'd 'themſelves by their Courage, and given Proofs of their 'Bravery on many Occaſions I ſhall be preſent at all 'your Expeditions; you will fight under Inſpection; and 'I ſhall reward, rather like a Father than a Sovereign, 'thoſe who ſhall diſtinguiſh themſelves by their Actions 'and Zeal to ſerve me.

Tho' his Majeſty has almoſt 100,000 Men on foot, yet it ſeems he intends to make a conſiderable Angmentation in his Forces. Beſides the Auxiliaries he takes into his Pay, General Geſler, is gone to Poland and Pruſſian Lithuania, in order to enrol ſome Thouſands of Ulans, who are a ſort of Coſſacks or Tartars, or at leaſt the Poſterity of thoſe two Nations, and are very fit for ſupporting the Fatigues of War.

Prince Leopold, Son of the Prince of Anhault Deſſau, is gone to join the Army in Sileſia. The Duke of Holſtein, General of Foot is alſo gone thither. A new Body of Artillery-Men and 7000 Horſes for remounting the Cavalry are alſo to be ſent to that Province, whither Four more Regiments are actually marching. Seven Regiments of Foot and Three Squadrons of Huſſars are expected from Pruſſia. The Regiment of Prince Dietrich and that of Major General Leps are expected from Bilefeldt and Ham. In ſhort, we may ſay that all the King's Troops are in Motion We are aſſur'd that the Court has received the News of the Death of Duke Charles Leopold of Mecklembourgh, Father of the Princeſs Anne Regent of Ruſſia; but we don't hear what Day he died.

LONDON,

Extract of a Letter from the Hague, dated January 17.

'The Conduct of the King of Pruſſia in Sileſia ſtill continues enigmatical, and muſt remain ſo till the Arrival of the next Poſt from Vienna: People here can hardly yet perſuade themſelves but that there is an Underſtanding between his Pruſſian Majeſty and the Court of Vienna. That Prince, they ſay, has better Judgment than to have taken a Step condemn'd by the Golden Bull, and the Conſtitution of the Empire, which forbid all Princes of the Empire from taking up Arms, and preſuming to do themſelves Juſtice. On the other Hand, if the Enterprize is not concerted with the Court of Vienna, one may be permitted to ſay, that his Majeſty's Language by no Means agrees with his Actions, and that there really is in this Conduct a great deal of Machiavelliſm, tho' he has pretended to hold thoſe Principles in Deteſtation

A private Letter from Madrid intimates, that the Court of Spain, notwithſtanding the extraordinary Scarcity which prevails throughout that Kingdom, and particularly amongſt the Troops, continues it Preparations for an Expedition into Italy This Manner of Proceeding makes it generally believ'd that Cardinal de Fleury is very far from diſſuading his Catholick Majeſty from going upon an Enterprize of this Nature; that on the contrary, Aſſiſtance is certainly given in an underhand Manner from France. How great ſoever, nevertheleſs, ſuch Aids may be, People are perſwaded that Spain can never ſucceed unleſs France heartily joins her According to all Appearance, Great-Britain will not eaſily be prevail'd upon, as Affairs are circumſtanced, to hearken to any Terms of Accommodation, being ſenſible how ardently the Queen of Spain wiſhes for a Peace. If the Spaniards ſhould venture to undertake to paſs into Italy, Admiral Haddock would probably have an Opportunity of renewing the Scene repreſented in the Year 1718, near Syracuſe. In the mean time both the Land and Sea Armies of Spain are in great Motion Publick Miniſters in all the Court of Europe are buſily employed in the moſt important Negociations, the Succeſs of which in a ſhort time will be known.

Vienna, Dec. 17. Upon repeated Advices of the March of the Pruſſian Troops to Sileſia, long Conferences have been held at the Palace, to which the Members of the Council of War and the other Colleges have been called; and we hear that ſeveral Regiments of Horſe and Foot have received Orders to hold themſelves in Readineſs to march to Sileſia.

Paris, Dec. 30. We are aſſur'd that the Difficulties concerning the Titles of the Queen of Hungary and Bohemia are partly got over, and that the King will immediately anſwer the Letter which that Princeſs wrote to him concerning the Death of the late Emperor. Yeſterday in the Afternoon it was ſuppos'd that one Third of Paris was under Water. The Foundations of ſeveral Houſes being undermin'd by the Inundations, frequently fall Down, and expoſe the Inhabitants to the Danger of being buried under the Ruins.

Lignitz,

Ligeitz, Dec. 23. The Head Quarter of the Prussian Troops is at Herrendorf (near Glogaw) to which the States of this Principality and those of Schweidnitz, Breslaw and Wohlaw have Orders to repair on the 2d of next Month, on pain of military Execution upon their Estates, Persons and Families. This Principality is oblig'd to furnish every Day 50 Measures of Rye, 115 of Oats, 506 Quintals of Hay, 85 Trusses of Straw, and 38 Quintals of Beef or Mutton. The other Principalities are tax'd in Proportion, and there are 18 or 20 Soldiers in every House.

Gauer, Dec 26. The King of Prussia's Designs are such a Mistery, that his own Generals know nothing of the Matter till they receive their Orders. When he holds a Council a War, he makes his Proposition in few Words, as to which every one gives his Opinion in Writing; whereupon they retire, and soon after it each receives his Orders. Yesterday an Express arrived with Dispatches under the King of Prussia's Seal, directed to the Elders of this Province, and that of Schweidnitz; whereby they are ordered to repair to his head Quarters, together with the Commissioners of the Country, for regulating the Delivery of Prisoners and Forage, on Pain of being severely chastized for their Disobedience: And the Elder of the Pricipality of Great Glogaw, was, for such Neglect, carried by a Detachment of Hussars, to the head Quarters, where he is detained Prisoner.
